

Stefano Gandolfi

(1959-2024)

Professor Stefano Gandolfi passed away on September 2, 2024. An active member of GRS for many years, he gained the friendship of many of us. Chairman at the Clinica Oculistica at the University of Parma since 2003, he successfully managed outstanding research activity, teaching and clinical work. At our meetings he was able to infuse wit and humor in the most complex topics, leading discussions with flair and fairness. His influence on our work will outlast him for long. We are deeply saddened by the loss of a colleague and comrade who will be undoubtedly missed by patients, students, coworkers and friends, and feel privileged that our paths crossed. An amateur but versatile player himself, he was passionate and knowledgeable about Verdi's operas. We join the ophthalmological community worldwide mourning him, and embrace his family and friends for a last salute.
